

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method and test system for measuring traffic at nodes in a network. The test system is used in a call center and allows the call center operator to determine traffic loading at network nodes even when in different administrative domains.

TECHNICAL BACKGROUND